

Dear ladies and gentlemen, dear associates,

The Representative of the Senate for Integration and Migration, together with other competent Senate administrations, has developed an overall concept for the integration and participation of refugees that will become the foundation for future refugee policies of the Senate. In order to develop the concept, the quality of life and living conditions of refugees were analyzed together with the districts and civil society organizations and based on this, specific goals and measures were defined to improve the living situation of refugees.

We would like to present the overall concept to the interested public.

I invite you to the presentation of the overall concept on December 17, 2018 from 11 am – 4.30 pm in the ROTES RATHAUS at Rathausstraße 15 in 10178 Berlin.

We have prepared a program with inspiring presentations, workshops, and musical and culinary highlights. The conference will also mark the start of the implementation support for the overall concept by civil society.

Look forward to interesting contributions from the current mayor, Michael Müller, the senator for Integration, Work, and Social Affairs, Elke Breitenbach, and the professor for integration research and social policy, Dr. Naika Foroutan.

Since the number of participants is limited, you need to submit a binding registration by November 30 at dialog@integrationberlin.de. You will receive confirmation of your registration from us which will also serve as your personal admission ticket. Without this confirmation it is unfortunately not possible to enter. If you are interested, we will also live stream the event at www.berlin.de/integration-im-dialog. In your application, please also let us know whether you require a translator or child care. We apologize if you receive this message multiple times.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Sincerely,

Andreas Germershausen
